

Broadband Thinking. Limitless Possibilities.

CITP elevates you to the executive level as an integral part of business planning.

Certified Information Technology Professionals are recognized for a unique blend of business and technology expertise. Only CPAs can be CITPs, further differentiating them from others holding certifications that recognize only a narrow scope of skills.

CITP is the mark of excellence for CPA business technologists who are leaders in industry, public practice, government and academia. Every organization needs a CPA.CITP. Every CPA who is interested in becoming an integral part of business today needs to be a CITP.
